

College Quality Arrangements

Introduction

Ian McCallum, Chair of CDN
Quality Development Network
Steering Group

Today's Session

- Karen Corbett, HMIE, Education Scotland
- Gill Ritchie, HMIE, Education Scotland
- Ken Rutherford, Assistant Director/Outcome Agreement Manager, SFC
- Eve Lewis and Hannah Clark, SPARQs

Consultation

- CDN Quality Development Network Steering Group is represented on the SFC/Education Scotland College Quality Arrangements Steering Group
- Next meeting Monday 28 November 2016
- Representatives: Ian McCallum and David Killean (first meeting)

Personal View

- Self-Evaluation model is another step towards autonomy in quality improvement
- Four yearly external review may have provided a distorted view – this new model is likely to be more effective

Personal View

- The sector has been going through a period of significant change financially and structurally so there may be challenges ahead
- Strong message coming from Education Scotland that this is a much more supportive process
